

aanderson@wpldrs.com

"I have two rules: Trust but verify and Get it done!"

Andy Anderson
Waypoint Leadership

Andy Anderson is an information technology leader with more than 25 years of combined expertise providing project management, project portfolio management, and new product management.

His career includes:

- Business and systems analysis expertise in information technology, service programs, new product development, and in enterprise web-based software environments.
- Implementing agile methodologies in pharmaceutical supply chain processes, in SaaS and ASP applications environments.
- Leading complex multi-site projects including international programs.

His focus at Waypoint:

- Managing infrastructure solutions, and software development projects.
- Temporary general management for enterprise applications and process improvement projects in high-volume, fast-paced environments.